

I want to express my opinion that there is a great interest in keeping national radio services. I personally enjoy the K-LOVE station, which offers the music that I prefer, as well as informing me of area events that are of interest to me. I believe the community would be negatively impacted if this station were replaced with an LPFM broadcaster, which would very likely not offer the same quality programming. In addition, I do not live in a large city, and I would not benefit from a station that serves only this area, since many events I attend are in surrounding cities. Finally, I feel that this national service helps make people feel more connected. I have heard someone call in and found myself praying for their needs, though I didn't know the person. I have also called my sister who lives a few hours away and we appreciate the fact that we hear the same song coming through the phone as we both can listen to K-LOVE. Thank you for considering my comments.
